Daniel, Here's the message I'm getting with my Windows XP operating system, new laptop: Sorry, we couldn't find http://davinci.websitetonight.com/launch.aspx%3Faccount_uid. Here are some related websites:

I'm at home. Can we talk by phone (775-574-0232)? I don't know what browser we use. If all else fails, I would like you to publish. Ron

Good Morning/Afternoon,

You should be able to publish at any time. If you are still having trouble I will need to know what internet browser you are using and what operating system on the different computers you are using.

If you would like we can publish for you, I just need your permission to do so.

Thank You,

Daniel, I wasn't able to publish. I tried using both my personal Macbook and the Tribe's Windows based laptop (I'm using the latter to write this email). The error message was that the server couldn't be found. Can this only be done why you are at work? I'll try again in the morning before I leave for work (7am Nevada and Arizona Time). Ron
